UNCLE SAM'S DRAFT IS UNDER WAY

PROJECT IS INDORSED BY LOCAL CHIEFS

Proposed Structure to Be Built Probably of Concrete to House All Headquarters Offices of Hawaiian Department Awaits Only Approval of Washington

Plans for a reinforced concrete or brick and stone building to be used as an office building by the Hawaiian department of the army have been recommended from here to the secretary of war.

That the second federal building briefly hinted at yesterday by the governor in a letter to the Star-Bulletin concerning the proposed civil center plan is intended for the use of the army was stated today by Col.
Richmond M. A. Schofield, department quartermaster, who came here primarily to take charge of construction work for the army.

Col. Schofield said today that the recommendation for a big army building went to the war department about four months ago, but declined to hazard a guess as to what action will be taken on it. The building will probably be of reinforced concrete, he stated, though possibly brick and stone might be used in it. The former material seems to be favored.

As the army grows on Oahu more need for a centralization of offices arises. Col. Schofield made this clear today in discussing the proposed building.

"Of course," he said, "the drafting rooms for the constructing quarters master's department and for the engineers would not be placed in this building, owing to the special type of offices needed for this work. However, it is desired to get such offices as possible, together."

At present most of the army offices are in the Young hotel building, some are on Hotel street near the armory and others are along the waterfront.
The officer did not discuss details of the plans. Many of these are yet to be decided. If the structure is placed with other buildings to form a civic group in the vicinity of the Capitol as announced by the governor yesterday, it will probably be not more than four stories in height, and will be planned to harmonize with neighboring buildings.

On the other hand, if a separate piece of ground is acquired by the government the type of building will be judged accordingly, and will probably be more than four stories in height.

Considerable time will elapse before the building can be erected, of course, owing to the present war conditions.

Baker Draws First Number, 258, Blindfolded; 687,000 To Be Taken For Vacancies, New 500,000 Army

Before Night Every Man Will Know Whether He is Among First 1,370- 000 to Go Before Exemption Boards

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—Uncle Sam's great army draft, the first of its kind in the history of the republic—the draft that will raise a new army to fight German aggression—is under way today.

Before night every man of the ten millions registered will know, if he chooses to learn, whether he is among the first 1,370,000 called before the exemption boards. Out of this first 1,370,000 will come those taken in the draft for active service.

The draft lottery began at 9:49 this morning. It will be completed before night.

From those whose numbers are drawn today will be selected the 687,000 who are to fill vacancies in the ranks of the regulars and the national guard and provide for the new army of 500,000 men.

The drawing is held under conditions absolutely impartial.
It is being worked with 10,500 slips in a committee room of the senate. Secretary of War Baker, blindfolded, began the draft by drawing the first number, which was 258.

As the numbers are drawn they are flashed throughout the country.

The most willing of those taken in the draft will be in training by mid-September in the 16 cantonments scattered throughout the country.

FIRE DESTROYS UNION STEAMER; ANOTHER OVERDUE

News of the burning at sea of the British freighter Waitotara, 4717 gross tons, owned by the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, Ltd., reached Honolulu today on a British liner from Sydney.

The new chief officer of the liner in port today, M. D'Arcy, is a survivor of the Waitotara disaster.

According to the story told by him to passengers of the steamer, the Waito-tara caught fire when she was only one day out of Suva, while en route from San Francisco to Sydney with a full cargo.

A brave but losing fight was made against the flames, and when the freighter was almost a furnace the crew took to the boats. They were rescued after 48 hours by the French liner Pacific.

Another Union line freighter is long overdue. It was also learned today she is the Waituna, from Auckland for San Francisco direct, according to Purser C. E. Leighton. The Waituna is 15 days overdue at San Francisco today and grave fears are felt for her safety. If she is never heard from it will make three vessels of the Union Steamship Company's fleet of cargo carriers to have been lost in the last half year.

The Waituna is a vessel of 3947 gross and 2630 net tons. Her master is Capt. Saunders. The San Francisco Guide reports her as having steamed from Wellington, New Zealand, but no date of departure from that port is given. One report heard here is that she was to have taken on a copra cargo at a port in Tahiti for San Francisco.

PINKHAM SIGNS 400 COMMISSIONS FOR REGISTRARS

Governor Pinkham was today busy signing commissions for the 400 or more registrars and clerks who will serve for the territorial registration on July 31. The commissions are on special forms, and separate ones are prepared for each island division.
Tomorrow at 11 o'clock, immediately after the meeting of the central board with all the boards from the different islands, the Oahu board and all Oahu registrars and clerks will meet in the hall of representatives for instructions as to the work of registration. There are about 135 officials for this island alone.

HAWAII OFFERS REQUISITES FOR TRAINING CAMP

Leaders and Men of Character Wanted for Officers, De- clares General Treat

Hawaii's military organization, along with Hawaiian climate and conditions here, offer facilities for the training of officers that probably exceed those of any one place in the mainland.

This is the opinion expressed today by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Treat, commander of the Hawaiian department, in an interview accorded the Star-Bulletin regarding the officers' training camp, it is planned to establish here in August.

"We have here," said Gen. Treat,
"a combination of things that offer to make this camp a great success.
Officers can be trained in every arm of the service for all arms are represented."

Discussing the type of men that he is hoping for, Gen. Treat stated that

MEMBER OF FAMOUS 'PRINCESS PATS' AND SURVIVOR OF YPRES AGAIN EN ROUTE FOR BATTLE

American Member of Heroic Canadian Regiment, Gassed at Hill 60 and One of the 19 Survivors Out of the 640 Who Participated in the Bloody Battle of 1915, Accompanies Fijians to Front After Convalescence From His Wounds—Spends Day in Honolulu

Private de Young, Canadian by birth and one of 19 men out of 640 who escaped death in a charge of the "Princess Pats" regiment at Ypres, France, in September, 1915, is again bound for the war front in France on his third enlistment since the war began, although he has once been discharged for physical disability caused by 11 wounds he received in the now famous charge. Seven of these wounds were machine gun bullets received in his right leg which caused a severe fracture and the balance were shell penetrations in other parts of his body.

Young is a member of the Fijian contingent of 20 soldiers en route by an Australian liner to England by the way of Canada, which is in port today. He recently re-enlisted in Fijian for another go at the Hun, after he had journeyed half around the world for a sight-seeing trip in the south seas following his discharge after he recovered from his wounds.

The deadly charge of the "Princess Pats" at Ypres was not the only war experience of Private de Young. He was a member of this noted Canadian regiment named after Princess Patricia Connaught, daughter of a former governor-general of Canada when it was gassed at Hill 60, on the west front, the first time the Germans used this barbarous form of death. The casualty list from this gas attack was terrific, but de Young's hearty constitution enabled him to recover to take part in the subsequent Ypres charge.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE REGISTRATION LUNCHEON?

Invitations have gone out, quite generally, to those of the residents of Honolulu who may be members of clubs and civic organizations, but it is difficult to reach, except through the daily press, others of the residents who are invited to come to the Registration luncheon on the roof of Young hotel at 12 o'clock noon on Friday, July 27. It is therefore hoped that when this notice is brought to the attention of any of the residents who expect to attend, but who have not signed cards through some organization, that post card, signifying such intention, will be immediately mailed to Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.

It would be impracticable to attempt to provide accommodations for an unknown number, and places will only, therefore, be laid for the total number signifying an intention of coming.
A very large attendance and a rousing and enthusiastic luncheon is expected. If you intend to come, mail your card immediately.

FIRST STEP TO INCREASE WATER SUPPLY FINISHED

Maole tunnel, Nuuanu valley, has been cut through. Tuesday afternoon the two heads met in the center of the hill and the first step towards giving Honolulu an additional water supply was completed. All that remains of work on the tunnel is the trimming, grading and laying of the concrete lining.

LINERS STAY UNTIL NEED IS ABSOLUTE

Delegate Kuhio Gets Assurance From U. S. Shipping Board That Matson Boats Will Be Seized Only in Case of Great Emergency

Formal protest filed by Delegate Kuhio with the U. S. shipping board against the proposed commandeering of the Maui and the Matsonia has brought forth the assurance that these two liners will not be taken over by the government except in case of great emergency necessitated by the needs of transportation or hospital ships. This is taken to mean that the vessels will continue to ply between Honolulu and the coast for the balance of the year at least, or perhaps extending well into 1918, depending on the necessity of ships occasioned by the despatch of troops to France.

Word of the assurance of the shipping board came to Honolulu in a letter from the delegate to Secretary Taylor of the promotion committee.
The letter follows:

Washington, D. C., July 6, 1917.
Mr. A. P. Taylor,
Secretary, Hawaii Promotion Committee,
Honolulu, Hawaii.

Dear Sir:
Relative to the sending out of false reports concerning the presence of submarines in the Pacific ocean, I wish to add that in a personal interview with the secretary of the navy, he assured me most strongly that he was firmly opposed to the giving out of false and alarming reports which might tend to frighten shipping interests. He further assured me that the navy department was not responsible for the rumors, and that he would see to it that no such reports would be sent out in the future.

With regard to the possibility of the government commandeering the Maui and Matsonia, would state that I called at the headquarters of the shipping board and protested the taking over of these two ships. I was assured that these ships would be taken over only in case of great emergency for either transport service or for hospital work. It is, therefore, probable that they may not be taken over for some months to come, or that they may not be taken over at all. However, we in Hawaii, must realize at this time that the government is likely to use all its resources, and in case it does commandeer these boats, it only does so because of great necessity, and, therefore, we ought in a patriotic spirit assent to the wishes of the government.

Trusting that it may not be necessary for the government to take over these ships, I remain, with best wishes,
Very truly yours,
J. K. KALANIANAOLE.

RILEY H. ALLEN, editor of the Star-Bulletin, sails on a northwest-bound steamer this afternoon for Victoria and Vancouver, on a vacation trip. He will join Mrs. Allen, who preceded him by a month, in Seattle, and expects to spend some time in the mountains, after which they may go east before returning to Honolulu in the fall.

POLICE CALLED OUT TO STOP DEMONSTRATIONS; MICHAELIS UPHOLDS HOLLWEG'S ATTITUDE

IN ANOTHER SPEECH TO REICHSTAG HE CALLS ON COUN-TRY FOR COOPERATION BUT DOES NOT ADD DETAILS OF PEACE MOVE—VOTE OF PARLIAMENT SHOWS STRONG SENTIMENT TO END WAR

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service.) BERLIN, Germany, July 20.—Defying the orders of the government, the radicals, among them many men prominent in parliamentary affairs, attempted to hold a street demonstration today but were stopped by the calling out of the police, who forced the crowd to disperse and warned the leaders that they would be arrested if the offense were repeated.

Chancellor Michaelis today addressed the reichstag but did not add details of the peace suggestion as voiced yesterday.
Today he upheld the attitude taken by von Bethmann-Hollweg.

"Bitter criticism has been directed against the highly deserving man before me," he said. "The criticism is due to enmity and hate. When the history of the war lies before us, all alike will completely appreciate what Hollweg's chan-celorship has meant to the enemy."

"A great weight has been put on my shoulders by the appointment made by our emperor. Trusting in God and in German might, I have ventured to undertake it. I beg the trust and cooperation of all."

German Reichstag Votes For Peace; Michaelis Makes Speech

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
COPENHAGEN, July 20.—Germany wants peace. The German reichstag by an overwhelming vote adopted yesterday a resolution in favor of peace immediately.

The vote in favor of peace stood 214 to 116, with seventeen not voting.
Chancellor Michaelis in his eagerly awaited speech before the reichstag declared that Germany would not continue the war a day longer if she could obtain an honorable peace. He asserted that Germany could go on fighting and that she could be victorious in the end, but, in concluding his address, and contradicting the implications of the earlier part of it, he pleaded for peace.

Justified Frightfulness Michaelis told the reichstag that he favored the use of the submarine fleet as it is now being used. The submarine, for the establishment of such a blockade as has been proclaimed, is a lawful weapon, its use justified through the fact that unrestricted warfare by the underwater craft will shorten the war, for which purpose the present unrestricted policy has been adopted.

Germany, he reminded his hearers, had made a final effort to avoid such use of her submarine weapon by offering peace to her enemies an offer that was scorned and the use of the submarine thus forced upon the German government.

Through the use of the U-boats, he said, much more peace had been accomplished than had been expected by the most optimistic.

Fatherland United
"He is a false prophet," said the chancellor, "who predicts that the end of this war will find the Fatherland divided in any way."

Earlier in the day a summary of a letter despatched by Michaelis to the premier of Austria-Hungary was given out to the press. In this letter, the new German chancellor stated his firm belief that the Central Powers would emerge from the conflict undivided victors and in a position to force such conditions upon their enemies as would ensure undisturbed conditions for the future, such a peace as the Austrian statesman had announced in his Vienna address to be the aim of the Austro-German people.

Germans Turn On Russians In Galicia; Win Victory

BERLIN, Germany, July 20.—The Germans today took the offensive on the east, pushing forward in three strong Russian attacks between the Sereth and Zlota Lipa rivers. The Russians suffered heavily and are retreating in disorder. The Germans took several thousand prisoners.
On the west front, the heavy artillery firing in Flanders increased to the most extreme volume today.

Petrograd More Quiet But Menace Of Revolution Still Imminent

PETROGRAD, Russia, July 20.—Crowds of arrested soldiers, sailors and workmen and quantities of rifles, machine guns and cartridges were brought into military headquarters today. On the workmen in one district alone were found 150,000 cartridges.

An attempt was made today to assassinate War Minister Kerensky, but the assassin shot wide and Kerensky escaped. He was visiting the town of Polotsk.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—The situation is quiet in Petrograd today. Plans are on foot for the reconstruction of the cabinet on the same basis of party representatives as before the crisis.

Finnish Diet Votes For Autonomy

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 20.—The Finnish Diet today adopted by a heavy vote the resolution declaring for autonomy. When the independence measure was put to a vote it passed 136 to 55. The Diet rejected, 104 to 88, an amendment calling for submitting the bill to the Russian provisional government.

French Hold In Face Of Hot Attack

PARIS, France, July 20.—The Germans today began a general attack on the French positions along the Aisne line, between Craonne and Vouclers. The French are maintaining their positions everywhere against the furious assaults.
